

MR. CARPENTER TO SPEAK ON LONG STAPLE COTTON

Saturday, October 26--Will Tell Farmers How to Grow This Cotton--Much Interest Manifested

Hon. C. H. Carpenter, ex-senator from this county, now employed by the United States government, in connection with long staple cotton growing and secretory of the Pickens county long staple cotton growers' association, will speak in the court house in Pickens next Saturday morning, October 26, at eleven o'clock, about long staple cotton.

Great interest is being manifested by the farmers throughout this county in long staple cotton growing, and it seems destined that this cotton is to bring Pickens county higher up in the list of prosperous and progressive counties.

Everybody interested is invited to come and hear this speech. Mr. Carpenter will discuss and explain the best methods of picking, ginning, selecting seed, and marketing the cotton.

Government experts, who travel all over the South, say that Mr. Carpenter has on his farm in this county the finest cotton in the world, so he must know something about this new cotton and how to grow it.

A large crowd is expected to hear him next Saturday.

DEATH OF L. A. BROWN.

Old Pickens Resident Passes Away in Catechee.

It was sad news to Pickens people to hear of the death of Mr. Lawson A. Brown, which occurred last Friday at his home in Catechee, where he had lived for several years. About thirty years ago Mr. Brown lived in Pickens and many of the older people here remember him well. He was a cabinet maker by trade. Mr. Brown was 88 years old and had been sick for some time. His remains were interred at Griffin church last Sunday. He leaves a wife and several children, one of whom, J. Alonzo Brown, runs a large store at Catechee.

Norris.

Lee Smith spent the week-end with his parents at Piedmont.

Rev. Mr. McLendon preached a very interesting sermon here Sunday night.

Mr. James Whiten and wife are very sick with fever. Their many friends hope them a speedy recovery.

Isaac Sheriff and several others spent the past week in the mountains. They brought back a fresh supply of cabbage, apples and other good things.

Mr. and Mrs. Whit Gaines were in Liberty on business last Tuesday.

Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Bowen both of Easley were the recent guests of Mrs. E. W. Tate.

Miss Bell Griffin has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Cork, for the past two weeks.

Mr. L. A. Brown died at his home on the 18th inst. He leaves several children besides a host of friends to mourn his death. We extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy.

Bertran Porter is visiting relatives in North Carolina.

The Hagood school will begin the winter term November 4th, with Miss Essie Kelly as teacher.

Mrs. W. H. Chastain and Miss Ida Price were the guests of their sister, Mrs. W. H. Stewart last Thursday.

Farmer's Wife.

Walker-Hunicutt.

There was a beautiful and home-like wedding at the residence of Mr. Thomas Hunicutt on October 13 at 11 o'clock a. m. The contracting parties were Rev. W. M. Walker and Miss Shelonia Hunicutt, the youngest daughter of Thomas Hunicutt. Rev. B. F. Murphree performed the ceremony, assisted by C. R. Abercrombie. Bro. Walker has for five or six years been state evangelist in the Twelve Mile River association fishing for men and it seems that he has drawn in one at last best suited to himself, and made for his old home in Spartanburg. May good luck attend the happy couple wherever they go. x

PICKENS ASSOCIATION

Met With Secona Baptist Church October 16, 1912

The Pickens Baptist Association met with Secona church near Pickens October 16th, at 11 a. m. Rev. C. A. Waters, the appointee for the opening sermon, was not well and he introduced Rev. Walter E. Wilkins, of Greenville, who preached a very strong practical missionary sermon. Hon. W. T. Bowen, former moderator, declined reelection and the association was organized by the election of Bro. J. C. Garrett, of Norris, moderator, and Bro. G. R. Mayfield, of Marietta, re-elected clerk.

The afternoon session was devoted to the subject of Foreign Missions. Preaching at night by Rev. I. E. McDavid, of Piedmont. Thursday morning, October 17th, devotional services conducted by Rev. J. E. Foster. The report on State Missions prepared and read by Rev. J. E. Foster, was discussed by him and others. The report on Christian Education, read by Bro. G. R. Mayfield, discussed by Bro. Mayfield, J. C. Garrett, financial agent of the Six Mile Academy; Prof. R. T. Hallum, treasurer of the board of trustees of the academy; Bro. H. D. Singleton, Hon. E. P. McCravy, Rev. E. V. Babb and Rev. W. E. Wilkins. The Six Mile Academy is being supported jointly by three associations, viz: Piedmont, Pickens and Twelve Mile River and the Home Mission Board. The school is well located in a fine section of our country and ought to be heartily and liberally supported by all our people. The three associations are abundantly able to support the school if they will. We now have three magnificent buildings, a full faculty of first class teachers and about 80 pupils.

Bro. C. E. Robinson, who has been by the bedside of a sick wife for months, came in the afternoon and read the report on the Laymen's Movement and made a short but forceful talk. Rev. Walter E. Wilkins, secretary of Laymen's Movement for the State, followed with a speech of great power. Preaching at 7:30 by Rev. W. E. Wilkins. Friday morning, 9:30, Devotional exercises conducted by Rev. C. A. Waters. After some routine business the report on Temperance was read by Prof. R. T. Hallum and spoken to by the writer. Bro. Waters, Foster and the writer spoke for the Baptist Courier. After the appointment of committees etc., the committee reported on time and place of next meeting. The association will meet at Norris on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday before the third Sunday in October, 1913. Opening sermon by Rev. J. E. Foster; alternate, Rev. J. M. Stewart.

A vote of thanks to the membership of Secona church for the splendid entertainment during the association. Rev. A. E. Howard and his people are to be congratulated. The association adjourned. The song, "God be with you 'till we meet again," was sung, the meeting having been given and prayer followed. Reflections: It was very sad for some of the older members to think over the past. Thirty-six years ago the Twelve Mile River association met with Secona church. Then Rev. W. B. Singleton, Rev. Harvey Kenmore, Rev. William Reed, Rev. Thomas Cooper, Rev. G. W. Singleton, Rev. T. W. Tolli-son, Rev. E. P. Stone, Bro. H. J. Anthony, Bro. Alexander Allgood, Bro. Jacob and James Lewis, and Bro. Joseph Looper. Among our preachers so far as I know only three remain. Rev. J. M. Stewart, Rev. B. Holder and Rev. J. T. Lewis.

We were all so sorry not to have Bros. C. E. Robinson, J. T. Taylor and Middleton Hester. These three brethren have added so much to the success of the association in the past.

It Is Hard But True

Man that is born of his parents is of but few days and full of microbes. He goeth to school when a youngster and gets the seat of his pants padded for something he did not do, until he is sick at heart. He grows like a weed in a back yard, and he reacheth the age when he is composed largely of wet, freckles and appetite for pie. About the time he gets too long for short trousers and not tall enough for long ones, he goeth away to college and learneth how to monkey on a three dollar mandolin and play whiskey poker. He cometh home a bigger fool than ever and marrieth a sweet young thing whose pa is supposed to be wealthy, but whom he subsequently ascertaineth, couldn't buy a prize rooster at a country inn. He worrieth along from year to year gradually acquiring offsprings until his house resembleth a Sunday school class just before Christmas. He fretteth through the day and lieth awake at night trying to figure out how to keep his dependent population out of the poor house his efforts are rewarded by having his daughter run away and get married and bring home a nice son-in-law every day to feast at his board. His sons grew up and call him governor and set him back for a five every day or two. About the time he has acquired enough lucre to quarrel over, he contracteth a bad cold and is hurried away before he has time to talk to his family. His sons blow in his estate on bad whiskey and plug hats, and his wife puts the finishing touches to his career by marrying the hired man. -Ex.

A Farmer Girl.

Jack McCall Dead.

Jack McCall, died Sunday night at his home in Pickens county, and his remains were buried Tuesday afternoon at Cane Grove Baptist cemetery in Pickens county. For several years Mr. McCall made his home at Double Springs, in this county. He was 61 years of age. He moved from Oconee to the place of his death one year ago. He was a native of Rabun county, Georgia. Mr. McCall's children in this county desire to thank the friends and neighbors of Mr. McCall for the many kindnesses shown him during his illness and death. These services will ever be held in grateful remembrance. -Keowee Courier.

Visited in Oconee.

Maj. G. M. Lynch, of the Oolenoy section of this county, visited his sons W. R. and G. A. Lynch, of near Poplar Springs, Oconee county, last week. He visited Walhalla and saw several of his old friends and acquaintances, among whom was Col. R. A. Thompson, whom he knew before the war, having met him in Virginia while he was in command of the 2nd Rifle Regiment S. C. V., as Colonel of said regiment. He also visited Seneca and saw several persons and acquaintances. Seneca is developing rapidly and is bound to be a city soon. Surrounded by good farms and a fertile soil.

Pickens is keeping up the public roads generally better than Oconee; although the main leading roads in Oconee are in excellent condition. We all should bear with the supervisor and county commissioners as this has been an unusually hard year to work and keep up roads. All Day.

MAD DOG BITES MRS. M. C. SMITH

Wife of Popular Cashier Thought Dog Was Merely Sick--Is In Pasteur Institute

Mrs. M. C. Smith, wife of the cashier of the Keowee bank here, was bitten by a dog last Tuesday and taken to Pasteur institute in Atlanta Friday for treatment.

She thought the dog was sick and was trying to give it some medicine when it bit her. Mr. Smith killed the dog and its head to Columbia for examination. Friday he received a telegram stating that the dog had hydrophobia, and he immediately accompanied his wife to Atlanta. Their son, Theo, and small baby are also with their mother.

Mr. Smith returned Monday and reports that Mrs. Smith is getting along nicely and that there is now no danger, for which their numerous friends are truly grateful.

MICAH J. JENKINS DEAD

Passed Away in Charleston Thursday Afternoon

Major Micah J. Jenkins, son of Gen. Micah Jenkins, the famous Confederate leader and himself a soldier who won honor and fame in the war with Spain, died Thursday shortly after noon at his residence, in Charleston. Major Jenkins suffered a severe attack of malarial fever while at Blackville about a week ago. He grew steadily worse, and was taken to Charleston on Tuesday. No improvement took place in his condition and he passed away Thursday shortly after 12 o'clock. He was in his 56th year.

A Class Reception.

Editor Sentinel: On Friday evening, October 18th, Mr. Robert Welborn entertained his class with a sumptuous supper at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Welborn. At five o'clock, the appointed hour, the guests began to arrive and in a short while all were there. We enjoyed ourselves talking and laughing until 6:30, when we were invited in the dining room, where we found the table groaning with all kind of good things to eat. The table was decorated with beautiful flowers and an excellent display of sweet fruits. The supper was followed by a dessert of fruits, lemonade, and cake galore. Afterward we enjoyed our selves on the spacious lawn with games. Then we returned to the house where we had songs and music till it was time to go home. All left praising and thanking our kind host for our good time.

Those present were: Misses Louise and Annie Gravley, Addie and Rennie Stewart, Essie Adams, Pauline Townes; Mr. Edd Stewart and their dear teacher, Prof. Henry A. Townes, and also Misses Velma and Lavinia Parritt, who were not members of the class. Those who have ever had the pleasure of being in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Welborn will know what an enjoyable time we had. A Participant.

The many Oconee friends of John M. Ledford, who resided in Walhalla for several years, will be glad to know that he has been promoted to an overseer in one of the rooms at the Central Cotton Mills. Mr. Ledford moved to Central about a year ago. William Miles Reid died at his home at Tamassee on September 23rd after a lingering illness from pellagra. He was 45 years old and was a loving and affectionate husband and father. He leaves a wife, four children, two grandchildren, two brothers, an aged father, besides hosts of other relatives and friends, to mourn his death. His body was buried at Cheochee Baptist burying-ground on the 24th, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. L. Hudson of Cheochee. -Keowee Courier.

LIGHT ON ANCIENT PANIC ARGUMENT

History Demolishes Republican Claim That Democrats Make Hard Times.

1893 WAS UNDER HIGH TARIFF

Every Panic Since the Civil War Been a Republican Panic--Lessons From 1907 Upheaval.

The enemies of Democracy are making their anticipated and regularly recurring howl--they are predicting hard times if Woodrow Wilson is elected President on a Democratic tariff revision platform.

The Republicans are claiming all credit for present prosperity. A glance backward will be worth while at this time.

Every panic since the Civil war originated and developed under Republican rule. The Republican campaign textbook of 1904 devoted much space to the many business disasters occurring from July, 1893, to November, 1894, attributing the public to attribute them to the inauguration of President Cleveland in March, 1893. But the Republicans fail to refer to the fact that the Republican tariff law was in force during more than twelve of the sixteen months of greatest business disasters. This fact must be remembered--the McKinley tariff bill became a law Oct. 6, 1890, and the first indications of the 1893 panic were seen Nov. 1890, scarcely more than thirty days after the McKinley law was passed, and the panic reached its worst stage in 1893 and early in 1894, during which time the McKinley law was in full force.

-Millions Lose Their Jobs.

It may be recalled, too, that the panic of 1873 under Republican rule and in a period of twelve years of high tariff taxation, was most disastrous. It continued five years, 3,000,000 workmen were thrown out of employment and bankruptcy ran riot. In 1898 the McKinley high tariff law was passed, and there were 10,673 failures, followed by 12,394 in 1891. The tariff was raised to nearly 50 per cent, but wages stood still or declined while the cost of necessities advanced.

The most serious labor troubles in the history of the United States have occurred under Republican high tariffs.

Some Lessons From 1907.

The Republican panic of 1907 furnished another forcible refutation of the Republican claim that Democratic administration and hard times, lower tariffs and panics have been co-existing.

In 1907, in the midst of prosperity, thousands of leading banks, with hundreds of millions on deposit, suspended cash payments. The trouble began as a result of a struggle between New York financial institutions for business.

The New York post in October, 1907, said:

Condemn Themselves.

"The certain and significant thing is that it will be known as a Republican and high tariff panic. Protest as Republicans may, they will be held responsible. Out of their own mouths the Republican party and the Dingleyites will stand condemned. They first in 1896 the standard by which they cannot escape being judged. In the party platform of that year they referred to the panic of 1893, and the hard times following, squarely to charge up the entire accountability to the party in control of the national government, and the political inference was stated with merciless logic: "Every consideration of public safety and individual interest demands that the government be rescued from the hands of those who have shown themselves incapable of conducting it."

"Now, what are the Republicans going to do when the Democrats have taken back their poisoned chalice? . . . A great emergency has come and the high tariff is seen to be of no avail whatever. It was to keep us all right and prosperous."

"Because the country has just got over the results of a Republican panic the president and his friends are urging us to perpetuate the Republican administration," says the Philadelphia Record.

Business Depression.

"As soon as business was checked five years ago the steel corporation, which was encouraged by Mr. Roosevelt to swallow the Tennessee concern, then its most formidable potential competitor, drew its fires and threw about half its workmen out of employment. Other industries did much the same thing. . . . There was an extensive stoppage of mills in Philadelphia."

"The Republican candidate for congress in the Kensington-Richmond district is using the 'soup houses of 1893' as a means of scaring the wage earners from voting the Democratic ticket. Those soup houses existed under the McKinley tariff. But there have been more recent ones. After 1907 there were soup houses in the Kensington-Richmond district, and everybody who was charitably disposed was begged for contributions to feed the people who were out of employment."

Nine Prisoners Now.

Sheriff R. R. Roark tells us he now has nine prisoners in jail. They came over from the Federal court at Greenville. Guess we'll have to quit boasting about about no prisoners being in jail now. But for about two weeks the jail was empty and there are very few counties with so good a record.
